MEJO683

Magazine Design

The magazine industry is characterized by competition. Whether a magazine is nationally distributed for a mass audience or a highly specialized title, it will likely have several direct and many more indirect competitors fighting for the same subscribers and advertisers.

To stand out in this crowd, magazines must establish a recognizable brand. And while this is done through unique content and the voice of the publication, these concepts are projected through design.

In MEJO683 you will work in a team to develop a design strategy for a new magazine, and then you will produce the first edition.

Description and policies

Course Description

In Magazine Design you will put the skills from Introduction to Graphic Design and Newspaper Design to work as you prototype and create a new publication from scratch. In this class you will continue to develop your skills in Adobe InDesign, Photoshop and Illustrator. This is a capstone project-based class, and you will be working in teams for the semester. Thus, attendance and participation will be crucial, and unexcused absences will affect your final grade (policy on page 4).

Note: The schedule in this syllabus is a guideline, and the production schedule is likely to be updated

Honor Code:

I expect that each student will conduct himself or herself within the guidelines of the University honor system (<http://honor.unc.edu>). All academic work should be done with the high levels of honesty and integrity that this University demands. You are expected to produce your own work in this class. If you have any questions about your responsibility or your instructor's responsibility as a faculty member under the Honor Code, please see the course instructor or Senior Associate Dean Charlie Tuggle, or you may speak with a representative of the Student Attorney Office or the Office of the Dean of Students.

Seeking Help:

If you need individual assistance, it's your responsibility to meet with the instructor. If you are serious about wanting to improve your performance in the course, the time to seek help is as soon as you are aware of the problem – whether the problem is difficulty with course material, a disability, or an illness.

Diversity:

The School of Media and Journalism adopted Diversity and Inclusion Mission and Vision statements in spring 2016 with accompanying goals - <http://www.mj.unc.edu/diversity-and-inclusion>.

The University's statement:

UNC is committed to providing an inclusive and welcoming environment for all members of our community and does not discriminate in offering access to its educational programs and activities based on age, gender, race, color, national origin, religion, creed, disability, veteran's status, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression.

Special Accommodations:

If you require special accommodations to attend or participate in this course, please let the instructor know as soon as possible. If you need information about disabilities visit the Accessibility Services website at <https://accessibility.unc.edu/>

ACCREDITATION

The School of Media and Journalism's accrediting body outlines a number of values you should be aware of and competencies you should be able to demonstrate by the time you graduate from our program. Learn more about them here:

<http://www2.ku.edu/~acejmc/PROGRAM/PRINCIPLES.SHTML#vals&comps>

No single course could possibly give you all of these values and competencies; but collectively, our classes are designed to build your abilities in each of these areas. In this class, we will address a number of the values and competencies, with special emphasis on the last seven bullet dots under "Professional values and competencies" in the link above.

Assignments and grading

Grading

This is a project-oriented course. Therefore, the grading will be based on various in-class/take-home projects (The magazine prototype and style guide, FOB content, BOB content and the design of your well content). Because this class is also about working in groups, some of your evaluation of will be determined by how you worked and communicate with your art director and others.

Components

	Value
Front or Back of Book Content/Design	25%
Well Content/Design	30%

73-76	C
70-72	C-
67-69	D+
63-66	D
65 and below	F

Grading criteria

Be prepared to work on your magazines outside of class. You will have time during class for hands-on work, but this generally will not be nearly enough. Computer labs can be used outside of class hours, and you are encouraged to work on your laptop. It is the responsibility of each design team to organize their time in order to meet the deadlines. Each individual must take responsibility and will be held accountable.

These are the main general grading criteria I will be using for the projects:

1. Aesthetic design and good use of typography.
2. Innovation (efforts that go beyond the status quo to further the story and enhance communication in different and effective ways).
3. Execution.

Every project must be completed on schedule and how you work with the leadership and team at every stage also will have a strong bearing on the assessment.

This will be a newsroom-type atmosphere, so you are expected to conduct yourself in a professional manner.

Attendance Policy

Each student will be allowed two unexcused absences. Since any absence will affect the team, when you are not going to make it to class you must email the professor and the art director. Each additional unexcused absences will result in a 5% reduction in your final grade. In addition, every four late arrivals will result in a 5% reduction in your final grade.
