MEJO-101: The Media Revolution: From Gutenberg to Zuckerberg and Beyond will introduce you to the various facets of communication from the objective world of news media to the persuasive realms of advertising, public relations, and social media. This course will also strengthen your knowledge of media and communication industries, their content, and their effects on us, as individuals.
Fall 2020 Course Schedule

The MEJO-101 class will meet from 6:30 p.m. to 7:45 p.m. on Monday and Wednesday. We will teach the class using the Zoom video-conferencing system. We expect all students, barring those with countervailing circumstances, to attend each Zoom session at the scheduled class time. Since this a media class, we would like all students to engage in discussions about media trends, themes and theories. As you will appreciate, such interactions occur best in real time class sessions.

We have designed our class with lectures delivered in synchronous Zoom sessions. To that end, we expect all MJ-101 students to attend each synchronous Zoom session at the scheduled class time.

We also have developed asynchronous resources (such as Sakai, Zoom recording) to support the synchronous Zoom sessions and students with special needs. Read page 6 if you have special needs.

What You Will Learn

This course has been conceptually organized into six core areas: Media Literacy, Journalism, Public Relations, Advertising, Visual Communication, and Critical Thinking. Each class session will cover theories, themes and tools that are relevant to media. We'll also explicate media concepts. This course may not teach you everything about media, but it should help you improve your conceptual grasp of media and their importance. The course goals are to:

- Engage with the several key faculty members in the Hussman School of Journalism and Media. Class lectures by these professors will enable you to determine if you would like to study News/Storytelling or PR/Advertising.
- Learn how to analyze the quality of the communication messages that barrage us every day;
- Explore how various communication professions interact;
- Improve our understanding of the impact of the media on various aspects of our lives;
- Learn a variety of research techniques employing traditional and electronic tools;
- Gain a better appreciation of the global impact of the media on society; and
- Examine the impact of the media on major sectors of society (business, law, health care, government, gender, media, education, etc.), and
- Discuss major concerns.

Course Overview

- With 300 students, MEJO-101 is our School's major introductory course in media and journalism. This course will strengthen our knowledge of media and media industries, their content, and their effects on media consumers like you.
We’ve meticulously organized MEJO-101, around a conceptual core, as outlined below:

The Conceptual Core of MEJO 101: The Media Revolution: From Gutenberg to Zuckerberg and Beyond

- Media Literacy: Critically evaluate media content, consumption, disruption and best practices in the media professions. Enunciate the media’s pursuit of accuracy, fairness, clarity, and objectivity in serving audiences and the information needs of communities. Explore ethical and legal conflicts in the pursuit of truth, accuracy, fairness and diversity. Understand media bias.
- Public Relations: Focus on insights, analysis, and practical skills essential to developing and implementing communications strategies that advance an organization’s goals and mission.
- Visual Communication: Explicate and apply media theories in the use and presentation of images, data and information. Comprehend appropriate tools and technologies to integrate the verbal and the visual. Learn visual communication concepts relating to storytelling.
- Journalism: Analyze the history, evolution and role of journalism and institutions in shaping communications around the world. Appreciate the diversity of peoples and cultures and track the significance and impact of media in a global society.
- Critical Thinking: Think critically, creatively and independently on the role of media in fostering freedom of expression including the right to dissent, to monitor and criticize power, and to redress grievances. Conduct research and evaluate information by appropriate methods. Discuss the role of media research.
- Advertising: Learn advertising campaign principles and theories of marketing and branding. Evaluate best strategies to gain public attention for products and services.

Honor Code

Remember, as proud members of the UNC-Chapel Hill community, we are bound by the University’s Honor Code: “It shall be the responsibility of every student at The University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill to obey and support the enforcement of the Honor Code, which prohibits lying, cheating, or stealing when these actions involve academic processes or University students or academic personnel acting in an official capacity.”

Students with Special Needs

We are committed to making accessible our course resources, procedures, exams, and facilities to students with disabilities and medical conditions.

If you require special accommodations to attend or participate in this course, please let the course instructors know as soon as possible. If you need information about students with special needs, visit the Accessibility Resources & Services site at https://ars.unc.edu/.

Through ARS, our university seeks to meet the individual needs of students with disabilities and medical conditions by coordinating and implementing appropriate accommodations. We recommend that you register with ARS if you would like us to provide accommodations, resources and services to this effect.
UNC-Chapel Hill’s Attendance, Grading, and Examination Policies

UNC-Chapel Hill’s attendance policy stipulates that “No right or privilege exists that permits a student to be absent from any class meetings, except for these University Approved Absences.”

The MEJO 101 attendance policy conforms to the UNC-Chapel Hill’s attendance, grading, and examination policies and procedures, as documented in the Academic Catalog (click link to read the policy).

Attendance Policy for MEJO 101

This is an instruction-intensive course and we expect you to be present (via Zoom) every day we meet. Ours is a “cameras-on” classroom. Even though this is a large class, we seek your engagement and participation and we believe that can best be accomplished with cameras on. This is especially important for participation in Zoom breakout rooms. While this is a discussion class that requires your real-time participation, we will attempt to accommodate those who are unable to attend due to COVID-19 issues. If you are in that situation, please let us know as soon as you can. We plan to record classes on Zoom and will make the recordings available after each class.

In lieu of taking attendance, we will ask you to complete a weekly quiz in Sakai that covers topics from the Monday class and the Wednesday class. The quizzes will be available by Thursday morning at 10:00 a.m. and you must complete this assignment by Sunday night at 11:59 p.m. There will be no makeup opportunity for missing this deadline. These quizzes will be short, consisting of six to ten questions. They will be easy to complete if you have attended the prior two classes or reviewed the Zoom recordings of those classes.

Besides attending class, you also are responsible for reading the Sakai course web space and email updates. There is no substitute for attending class, participating in class discussions, listening to our stellar speakers and following their class lectures.

We Cherish Diversity.

Diversity is vital to journalism and media. Diversity prohibits policies, procedures or practices relating to willful discrimination on the basis of age, color, disability, gender identity or expression, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, or veteran status. We seek to create in this a positive atmosphere of nondiscrimination. Acts of discrimination, harassment and insensitivity hurt and degrade all members of the learning community whether victim, perpetrator, or observer. As a community of scholars, we are committed to equal opportunity for all. UNC-Chapel Hill’s Equal Opportunity and Compliance Office ensures compliance of Carolina’s Policy on Prohibited Discrimination, Harassment and Related Misconduct.
Grading

Your course grade (500 points) will be computed as follows:
MEJO-101 projects and assignments add up to 550 points, as detailed below:

100 points: Mini essay (fourth week) on a news topic
100 points: Timed take-home exam on “Core Concepts in Media and Journalism” (You’ll have 10 days to work on this test)
100 points: Mid-term exam (tenth week) in-class closed book
150 points: Cumulative closed book final exam (in finals week)
80 points: Weekly quizzes (you must attend class to do well!):
20 points: Course Activities: (20 points for completing mid-semester feedback and end-semester evaluation)

550 total points you may earn in this course.

We’ll divide by 5.5 the total points you earn out of 550 points to compute your final grade, based on the grading scale outlined below.

Grading Scale for undergraduate students:
Undergraduate grades will be based on the following scores:
A = 95-100 | A- = 90-94 | B+ = 87-89 | B = 84-86 | B- = 80-83 | C+ = 77-79 | C = 74-76 | C- = 70-73 | D+ = 67-69 | D = 64-66 | F = 63-0

Rounding off final grade points with decimals: The algorithm in our grade schema is coded to follow two rules for rounding off the grades with decimal points. They are:
Rule #1: Round up decimals of .5, .6, .7, .8, or .9) to the next integer. For instance, 66.5, 66.6, 66.7, 66.8, or 66.9 is rounded to 67.
Rule #2: Round down decimals of .1, .2, .3, or .4) to the previous integer. For instance, 66.1, 66.2, 66.3, or 66.4 is rounded to 66.

Late work or tardy submissions: See the MEJO-101 Schedule on Sakai for project details and deadlines. If you delay your project, your grade on that assignment will drop 20 points, which is the equivalent of one letter grade, (for example, from an A to a B). All class projects and activities including participation activities are due at the deadline. Late submissions will be penalized for each day they are late. If it’s not ready at deadline time, it’s already considered a day late. Failure to meet some deadlines may earn a zero grade.

Grade issues

We are committed toward grades that are fair and appropriate. It is important for you to know that the final grade is an average of several grades that are earned over the semester. Final grades are, therefore, NOT negotiable. Doing extra work to improve the final grade is NOT an option because that would be unfair to other students in the course. If you wish to earn a good grade, work hard from the beginning of the semester.
Grade Appeal

Although grades are not negotiable, we carefully consider concerns about an assignment grade. If you have questions about a particular grade, please bring it to our attention within a week of receiving that particular grade. The only grades that we will discuss at the end of the semester are those assignments you complete at the end of the semester.

You have the right to appeal any grade in this course. You are free to talk with us about a grade in this course and discuss my determination of that grade. If you are not satisfied, you may submit your appeal in writing along with the assignment or project in question. We will respond to your appeal. If you are not satisfied, you may appeal to your academic dean.

The academic dean will consider the merits of the grade appeal. After careful consideration, the dean may reject or accept your grade appeal. The dean may also appoint a grade-appeal committee to consider your complaint and will recommend action to the dean who appointed the committee.

Once reported, permanent course grades may not be changed except for clerical or arithmetical error or by a successful grade appeal, as outlined above. A formal grade appeal, if any, must be filed no later than the last day for late registration of the next semester.

Classroom Manners

Large classes like MEJO-101 create some interesting dynamics! Here are some basics to help ensure everyone is able to fully participate in our class:

Close other windows on your computer during class. Gaming, Internet surfing, tweeting and shopping can be done outside of our class meeting times. Please mute your Zoom audio unless you are speaking.

Chatting vs. discussing. We encourage group discussions of topics at certain points in the class. Please be respectful of others in the class.

Agreeing to disagree. With a class of 300 students, we will no doubt have differing views – and we hope you will share them! The goal is to be respectful in sharing dissenting opinions.

Join our class on time. Make plans not to be interrupted during the 75 minutes of each class. We’ll do our part to make these sessions enlightening and informative. We need you to help us
ACEJMC Professional Values and Competencies

The Accrediting Council on Education in Journalism and Mass Communications (ACEJMC) evaluates professional media and journalism programs in colleges and universities. The ACEJMC requires that, irrespective of their particular specialization, all graduates should be aware of certain core values and competencies. This course covers the following values and competencies:

- understand and apply the principles and laws of freedom of speech and press, for the country in which the institution that invites ACEJMC is located, as well as receive instruction in and understand the range of systems of freedom of expression around the world, including the right to dissent, to monitor and criticize power, and to assemble and petition for redress of grievances;
- demonstrate an understanding of the history and role of professionals and institutions in shaping communications;
- demonstrate an understanding of gender, race, ethnicity, sexual orientation and, as appropriate, other forms of diversity in domestic society in relation to mass communications.
- demonstrate an understanding of the diversity of peoples and cultures and of the significance and impact of mass communications in a global society.
- understand concepts and apply theories in the use and presentation of images and information;
- demonstrate an understanding of professional ethical principles and work ethically in pursuit of truth, accuracy, fairness and diversity;
- think critically, creatively and independently;
- conduct research and evaluate information by methods appropriate to the communications professions in which they work;
- apply tools and technologies appropriate for the communications professions in which they work.

This course is designed to build your abilities in each of these areas depending on your research interests and specific area of specialization. In this class, we will also seek to address the values and competencies as outlined above.
Dear Students in MEJO-101 Fall 2020:

Welcome to MEJO-101: The Media Revolution: From Gutenberg to Zuckerberg and Beyond! Thank you for choosing this class as part of your coursework. You have paid your hard-earned money for an enriching academic experience. Thus, our job is to ensure that when you leave this class in November, you truly feel that you have received your money’s worth. You are the most important part of Carolina. You do not depend on us. We depend on you. You are not an interruption to our work - you are the purpose of it. We are not doing you a favor by serving you - you are doing us a favor by giving us the opportunity to work with you.

Our job is to make your educational experience as stimulating and rewarding as we can and to create an environment conducive to facilitating your learning experience. However, we cannot perform my job alone. We need your help. Your job is to participate in this class with an open mind and with enthusiasm because we cannot teach you anything unless you are willing to learn.

If at any time during the course of your semester you feel that the course is not meeting your expectations, please don’t hesitate to come and talk with us. We look forward to spending the next several weeks with you. We will give 130 percent toward making this a unique and valuable learning experience for you.

In conclusion, as we begin our journey together this semester, we would like you to consider the following words: “The only limitations in our lives are those we place on ourselves.”

Here’s wishing you a productive Fall semester!

Cordially,

Deb Aikat
For Team MEJO-101

P. S.: We firmly believe in the value of an informal and flexible learning environment. Feel free to make suggestions about what you would like to get out of this class. We believe in a team effort and your ideas are as valuable as mine.

We view our responsibility as working with you to help you learn about mass communication issues, produce high quality work, achieve a good grade for your efforts and a valuable set of research skills. If you need help, we are here to provide it. Do not wait until it is too late. If you face a problem, please communicate with us and we will work together to find a solution.
