

DIGITAL STORYTELLING

Introduction

Telling stories is the basis of what we do as communicators. Learning how to do this well requires a thorough understanding of the tools available and the strengths and weaknesses of each one. The objective of this course is to introduce you to the theories and practices of digital content creation. We read and view work that addresses each of these presentation methods. You will be expected to gain a critical understanding of the value of each.

Recognition of the benefits and drawbacks of the written word, photography, audio, video, animated graphics, interactive applications, virtual reality and augmented reality will be addressed in class discussions and assigned projects. You will acquire knowledge about how to choose presentation methods based on a project's audience and communication goals. You also will learn how to apply this knowledge by creating a digital storytelling final project.

The essentials

- Class time: Tuesdays and Thursdays, 2:00 to 3:15 p.m.
- Class location: Carroll Hall, Room 60
- Instructors: Nazanin Knudsen [nknudsen@email.unc.edu] and Scott Geier [scgeier@live.unc.edu]
- Office hours: via Zoom, by appointment

Required items

Smartphone: There are no textbooks for this course. Readings and viewings and other media will be provided through links on the Class Materials page. However, you will be using a smartphone to record audio and video. If this proposes a problem, please contact Stephanie Brown in the Hussman School's Park Library to discuss possible alternatives.

Required Digital Access

Adobe Premiere

Follow the instructions here to create an Adobe ID and install the required software for free. You will need to install Adobe Illustrator, Photoshop and Premiere: <http://software.sites.unc.edu/software/adobe-creative-cloud/>

Although you can download some of the required software to your own laptops for the projects required in this course, you may find that Adobe Premiere runs slowly on your laptop if your machine has less than 16GB of memory (RAM). Be sure to take this into account when planning your projects. To see how much RAM you have available on a Mac, click the Apple at the top left of your desktop > About this Mac > Overview > Memory.

YouTube or Vimeo account

You must use or create an account to publish your videos for this course. A YouTube account is included with any Gmail account, and there is no storage limit on YouTube accounts. A Vimeo account is free to create, but free accounts have restrictions on the total GB you can upload each week. Publishing your work on YouTube is easy and free, but Vimeo can have a more professional reputation.

LinkedIn Learning

Follow the instructions here to access LinkedIn Learning with your onyen. <https://software.sites.unc.edu/linkedin/>

Other required* items

*NOTE: It is important that you DO NOT purchase any of these supplies until a few weeks into the semester. More detail will be provided during the first weeks of class.

Equipment room manuals: <https://guides.lib.unc.edu/equipment-room/instruction-manuals>

FiLMiCPro app: FiLMiC Pro that provides the features of professional video cameras for iPhone and Android. The cost of this app is $14.99. More information here: <https://www.filmicpro.com/>

Smartphone adapter

If you will be using an iPhone 7 or higher, you also need a 3.5 mm headphone jack adapter (usually included with your iPhone purchase) to be able to use the lavalier microphone.

Headphones

Must have a standard mini jack (1/8"). Any wired (non-Bluetooth / not wireless) headphones you might use with your phone will work. Here is a recommended option, although standard earbuds with a mini jack also will work.

Wired lavalier microphone with headphone monitoring

A lavalier will be needed for the best audio quality. You will need to purchase a lavalier microphone with headphone monitoring (pictured below). Here is the link to an option on Amazon: Lavalier microphone. The cost for this one is approximately $25. Additional microphone option here.

Tripod with smartphone mount

You will need to purchase a tripod and mount for your phone. Cost: About $20. You may find an example here (pictured below).

Domain name & hosting space.

You may need to purchase these products or demonstrate that you have a personal website. Cost for these items is approximately $20-$30 for your first year. More details will be provided in class.

Recommended Supplies

USB external hard drive / flash drive

Specs: Minimum 64GB flash drive, must be USB 3.0 for fastest file transfer speeds. Recommended to invest in a larger external hard drive to backup all files for this course and others.

Description

This course begins with an overview of the various media forms you may use for your project, e.g., text, photography, audio, video, graphics, data visualization, interactive web apps, and the pros and cons of each method. We also discuss the iterative process of brainstorming. During this time, you will need to explore topics for your final project and consider which media forms will best tell your stories. You must pitch at least two ideas at the end of the second week of the semester (on or about August 30).

After the introductory section of the course, we will spend 10 weeks focusing on each of the various media forms in detail and practicing the skills in a series of short exercises. Nazanin Knudsen will teach the classes on video and audio. Scott Geier will teach the sections on graphics, data visualization and web applications. During this time, pay attention to which forms of storytelling suit your topic, your interests, and your needs. For example, you may decide that you want to focus on documentary video. Or, you may decide to work primarily on infographics and data visualization. It's up to you.

The last three weeks of the semester will be spent working on your final project, with a focus on the media form(s) that best suit your story. Nazanin will be available to help those of you who choose to do a deeper dive into video; Scott will assist with graphics, web apps, and data visualization.

Schedule

The outline below provides a rough idea of class topics by week. Based on the availability of guest speakers, topics and exercises are subject to change. For a current calendar, links to online readings, viewings, presentations, assignments and deadlines, see the class Sakai site.

Deadlines

Simply put, deadlines are absolute. All assignments are due as stated on the course calendar (see Class Materials and Calendar). NO LATE ASSIGNMENTS WILL BE ACCEPTED.

Grading

You are graded according to the highest professional standards. Your assignments will be evaluated according to the rubrics distributed with assignments. Grades are described below:

- H High Pass - clear excellence, nearly perfect in execution for a graduate-level student
- P Pass - entirely satisfactory graduate-level work
- L Low Pass - inadequate work, aspects of the assignment may be missing or incomplete
- F Fail

Grading components

Your overall grade for this course will be based on the following components. Specifics for each element will be distributed at the time of the assignment.

- Participation: 10% of the final grade (5% assessed by each instructor)
- Exercises: 50% of the final grade (25% for the video exercises; 25% for the graphic and web exercises)
- Final project: 40% of the final grade

During the semester, you will be assigned multiple exercises to develop your skills. Completion of each of these exercises to the best of your abilities will result in a passing grade. Your effort will be considered when grading exercises. Your final project will be graded to professional standards, and quality as well as effort will be considered.

Grading criteria

There are basic expectations that any supervisor or project manager would have for a project undertaken by a digital storyteller. Regardless of your skill level, all of your assignments must meet the following minimum basic standards:

- Completed according to the assignment specifications
- Completed on time
- Free of typographical, grammatical and technical errors
- Demonstrates a clear grasp of digital production standards

Syllabus Changes

The instructors reserve the right to make changes to the syllabus, including project due dates and test dates. These changes will be announced as early as possible.

Attendance: University Policy

No right or privilege exists that permits a student to be absent from any class meetings, except for these University Approved Absences:

1. Authorized University activities
2. Disability/religious observance/pregnancy, as required by law and approved by Accessibility Resources and Service and/or the Equal Opportunity and Compliance Office (EOC)
3. Significant health condition and/or personal/family emergency as approved by the Office of the Dean of Students, Gender Violence Service Coordinators, and/or the Equal Opportunity and Compliance Office (EOC).

Attendance: Class Policy

This is a graduate-level class, so it is expected that students are available to attend all classes. Class time will be important for collaboration, peer interaction and project planning. Lack of attendance and engagement with the material will affect your course grade. For situations when an absence is not University approved (e.g., a job interview), please communicate with me as early as possible. Be aware that you are bound by the Honor Code when making a request for an absence.

Accreditation

The Hussman School of Journalism and Media's accrediting body outlines a number of values you should be aware of and competencies you should be able to demonstrate by the time you graduate from our program. Learn more about them here: <http://www2.ku.edu/~acejmc/PROGRAM/PRINCIPLES.SHTML - vals&comps>

No single course could possibly give you all of these values and competencies, but collectively, our classes are designed to build your abilities in each of these areas. In this class, we will address a number of the values and competencies, with special emphasis on the last six bullet points under "Professional values and competencies" in the link above.

Seeking help

If you need individual assistance, it is your responsibility to meet with the instructor. If you are serious about wanting to improve your performance in the course, the time to seek help is as soon as you are aware of the problem, whether the problem is difficulty with course material, a disability or an illness. Please feel able to contact the course instructor as soon as you perceive any warning signs of things that might adversely affect your class performance or final grade.

Honor Code

Each student will conduct himself or herself within the guidelines of the University honor system (<http://honor.unc.edu>). All academic work should be done with the high levels of honesty and integrity that this University demands. You are expected to produce your own work in this class. If you have any questions about your responsibility or your instructor's responsibility as a faculty member under the Honor Code, please see the course instructor or Senior Associate Dean C. A. Tuggle, or you may speak with a representative of the Student Attorney Office or the Office of the Dean of Students.
