

Principles of Advertising & Public Relations

MEJO 137

SPRING 2024

Time: T & TH Section 1: 9:30am - 10:45am
Section 2: 2:00pm - 3:15pm

Classroom - Carroll Hall 111

Prerequisites: NONE

MEJO 137 is a prerequisite for every 300, 400 or 500 level Ad or PR course.

Course Description

"Principles of Advertising and Public Relations" introduces you to the fields of advertising and public relations, incorporating important concepts concerning effective advertising and PR practices. This course will provide you with a solid foundation for understanding both disciplines, including historical development, issues and controversies, best practices, career opportunities, and components of successful advertising and public relations campaigns. This course will help you build a foundation for understanding advertising and PR. It also will provide a solid understanding of their relationship with each other, journalism, marketing, and business.

Course Objectives

By the end of the semester, you will be able to:

- Determine whether a career or further study in advertising or public relations is right for you.
- Examine the role and function of advertising and public relations in businesses, nonprofits and government.
- Understand basic components of the advertising and public relations processes, which include creative, target audiences, research, strategy and planning, goals and objectives, messages, media channels, issues management, tactics, engagement and metrics.
- Explore the foundations of advertising and public relations including each profession's unique role in fueling brand movements, the history and structure of the industry, as well as how audiences/consumers respond to strategic communication messages.
- Understand the transformation that has taken place in the strategic communications industry driven by digital and social technology as well as measurable engagement.

There Are Two Parts (and Two Sections) of This Course

The Spring of 2024, Section .001 (9:30am section) of MEJO 137 will be taught Principles of Advertising for the first-half of the semester by Professor Kayye and then Principles of PR by Professor Fields the second-half of the semester. Section .002 (2:00pm section) of MEJO 137 will be taught Principles of PR by Professor Fields the first-half of the semester and then taught Principles of Advertising for the second-half of the semester by Professor Kayye.

Required Readings for the Course

Readings

ADVERTISING TEXT BOOKS

Hey Whipple, Squeeze This: Sullivan, L. (6th Edition); Hey, Whipple, Squeeze this: The Classic Guide to Creating Great Ads. 5th edition. John Wiley & Sons.

Available to order on Amazon here. The eBook version is here. It is IN STOCK at the UNC Students Stores as well. DO NOT come to Day-1 without it!

(All reading called-out on Page 3 are based on the 6th Edition of this book)

The Practical Pocket Guide to Account Planning: Koczek, C. (Any edition). The Practical Pocket Guide to Account Planning. Yellow Bird Press.

Available to order on Amazon here. The eBook version is here.

For the Advertising portion of the class, there are two Creative Assignments as well as an Exam. The first assignment usually hits around Day-6 or 7 - depending on the pace of the class. While the second assignment generally hits around Day-11. And, at the end of the first half of the class (before the PR section starts) you will be required to take a final Ad Exam. The creative assignments are designed to help guide your ability to demonstrate your inner creativity—but, as with everything creative (and in advertising) it will be graded subjectively. But, the advertising final exam will consist of multiple-choice questions; thus, it is an objective measurement of knowledge. The textbooks and in-class assigned readings, in-class discussions and lectures will be covered in the exam. It is HIGHLY RECOMMENDED that you take notes in class as the content expands beyond the lecture slides and will help you ace the final exam, too!

PUBLIC RELATIONS TEXT BOOK

THINK Public Relations 2nd Edition

by Dennis Wilcox (Author), Glen Cameron (Author), Bryan Reber (Author), Jae-Hwa Shin (Author)

Available to order on Amazon here. The eBook version is here.

Acquiring the Textbooks

The required textbooks for this course are not only available in the UNC Student Stores but, are available for digital download/online reading from the UNC Libraries; although students are encouraged to purchase their own copy, especially if they plan to pursue a career in marketing, advertising, or PR. In addition, they are all available from amazon.com in both print and eBook formats (see the links above).

I	Incomplete

Grading

Your grade will be earned by successfully completing the requirements for both the advertising and public relations sections of the course.

Attendance

For AD Section: You are an adult. You decide to come to class - we won't be grading attendance. But, the majority of the test questions come from the LIVE lectures - not the readings or the project work. So, if you don't do well on the Final Exams for each section it's likely because you missed class.

For PR Section: The PR section attendance policy will be determined by Professor Fields. The class will be held in-person – and via Zoom.

Late work & missed exams

Any assignment submitted past the due date will certainly be accepted, but will result in a 10% deduction of the grade calculation.

Grading Rubric

ADVERTISING PART: 500 Points

1st Creative Assignment	100 Points
2nd Creative Assignment	150 Points

PR Section Research (see below)	50 Points
PR Final Exam	200 Points

REQUIRED: Ad & PR Research

Understanding research is critical in the fields of Advertising and PR. Thus, 10% of your grade will be derived from your research participation. Two hours are required - read below so you understand. You will receive an email about the Research Requirement from Professor Joe Bob Hester!

Research Participation Requirement: Students in MEJO 137 are required to complete 2-hours of research participation during the course. One option is to participate in two hours of academic research studies in the School of Journalism and Media. Participating in studies is a valuable way for you to receive firsthand experience with research. If you are enrolled in another MEJO class that has a research participation requirement, it may also satisfy the research requirement for this course. If you have questions about the research requirement, contact Professor Joe Bob Hester (hesterj@email.unc.edu).

Alternatively, you can write two one-page summaries and critiques of academic research articles. Each review counts for one hour of research participation, so you can combine participation in the studies with article reviews to fulfill the research requirement. You may summarize any research article published in the past two years in the following journals: Media Psychology, Journal of Advertising, Journal of Public Relations Research, Journalism & Mass Communication Quarterly, Public Relations Review or Mass Communication and Society. You must identify the author, date, article title, and journal title on each of your summaries. And post them into the class' Canvas before the end of the semester.

Other MEJO & UNC Stuff

Counseling and Psychological Services:

CAPS is strongly committed to addressing the mental health needs of a diverse student body through timely access to consultation and connection to clinically appropriate services, whether for short or long-term needs. Go to their website: <https://caps.unc.edu/> or visit their facilities on the third floor of the Campus Health Services building for a walk-in evaluation to learn more.

Title IX Statement:

Any student who is impacted by discrimination, harassment, interpersonal (relationship) violence, sexual violence, sexual exploitation, or stalking is encouraged to seek resources on campus or in the community. Reports can be made online to the EOC at <https://eoc.unc.edu/report-an-incident/>. Please contact the University's Title IX Coordinator (titleixcoordinator@unc.edu), Report and Response Coordinators in the Equal Opportunity and Compliance Office (reportandresponse@unc.edu), Counseling and Psychological Services (confidential), or the Gender Violence Services Coordinators gvsc@unc.edu to discuss your specific needs. Additional resources at safe.unc.edu

Policy Non-Discrimination:

The University is committed to providing an inclusive and welcoming environment for all members of our community and to ensuring that educational and employment decisions are based on individuals' abilities and qualifications. Consistent with this principle and applicable laws, the University's Policy Statement on Non-Discrimination offers access to its educational programs and activities as well as employment terms and conditions without respect to race, color, gender, national origin, age, religion, creed, genetic information, disability, veteran's status, sexual orientation, gender identity or gender expression. Such a policy ensures that only relevant factors are considered and that equitable and consistent standards of conduct and performance are applied.

If you are experiencing harassment or discrimination, you can seek assistance and file a report through the Report and Response Coordinators (see contact info at safe.unc.edu) or the Equal Opportunity and Compliance Office, or online to the EOC at <https://eoc.unc.edu/report-an-incident/>.

Diversity Statement:

I strive to make this classroom an inclusive space for all students. Please let me know if there is anything I can do to improve; I appreciate any suggestions. More broadly, our school has adopted diversity and inclusion mission and vision statements with accompanying goals. These complement the University policy on prohibiting harassment and discrimination. In summary, UNC is committed to providing an inclusive and welcoming environment for all members of our community and does not discriminate in offering access to its educational programs and activities on the basis of age, gender, race, color, national origin, religion, creed, disability, veteran's status, sexual orientation, gender identity, or gender expression. The Dean of Students (Suite 1106, Student Academic Services Building, CB# 5100, 450 Ridge Road, Chapel Hill, NC 27599-5100 or [919] 966-4042) has been designated to handle inquiries regarding the University's nondiscrimination policies.

Accreditation:

The Hussman School of Journalism and Media's accrediting body outlines a number of values you should be aware of and competencies you should be able to demonstrate by the time you graduate from our program. To learn more about them, click here: <http://hussman.unc.edu/accreditation>. No single course could possibly give you all of these values and competencies; but collectively, our classes are designed to build your abilities in each of these areas.
